ACCUPUNCTURE FOR MEN & WOMEN'S HEALTH AND WELLBEING

Sarah Fitzgerald, Lic.Ac., MBAcC, RESTORE Scar Therapy Practitioner

Initial Consultation and Treatment	90 mins	£70
Follow up Consultation	50 mins	£60

Acupuncture is an ancient therapy based on the principles of Chinese Medicine. Central to understanding acupuncture is the concept of qi, a vital energy or life force that flows through our bodies. This qi is concentrated within channels and meridians throughout the whole body. If the flow of qi is disrupted it can result in illness or pain.

Acupuncture works by correcting the flow of qui and preventing further disruptions from occurring. This is achieved by accessing the qi at specific locations know as acupuncture points. With over 350 different acupuncture points, the methods of diagnosing and treating with acupuncture are always tailored to the individual.

Acutonics (SOUND HEALING)

Miles Kempton

1 hour £65

This effective non-invasive approach uses sound waves produced by precision-calibrated tuning forks, set to specific frequencies, which send the vibratory energy of sound through the acupuncture & acupressure points, and other energy systems of the body.

Acutonics Continued.....

There are three tiers and octaves of tuning forks; low, medium, and high; which are calibrated around planetary orbital velocities and range from 70hz to 550hz. The mid and low forks have resonators to prolong the vibration of the tuning fork. The low forks allow for deeper tissue penetration, whereas the highs are used above the body in the (bio)field.

The forks are not only used on acupuncture points, but on trigger points, muscle insertion points, hand su-jok points, the face & feet, as well as any points of pain. Tuning forks are an ideal way of delivering information with precision, wherever it needs to be applied.

The Bowen technique itself is a powerful, yet gentle and unique form of holistic remedial bodywork. Potentially any problem can be addressed, it is effective at relieving and, or resolving a wide range of health problems, including injuries, trauma either emotional or physical, chronic and painful conditions and skeletal disorders.

Utilising Karly's range of skills and knowledge of Bowen, focused moves are made at specific points on the body, Karly then uses specific neurological techniques and energy work to reset, realign and recalibrate the body, paying particular focus to the nervous system and any blocks or patterns held in the soft tissue. Karly addresses the person as a whole, with the intent to heal beyond the presenting symptoms, restoring health and well being to the persons mind, body and spirit.

Most sessions last approximately 45-60 minutes. In the first session an in depth history and assessment will be made and the clients expectations discussed.
